

NOTICE OF DATA SECURITY INCIDENT

Last Updated June 11, 2026

Orrstown Bank (the “Bank”) utilizes Mercadien, P.C. CPAs (“Mercadien”) to provide certain advisory services. In connection with such services, we provided Mercadien with certain data. Mercadien recently discovered a data security incident that may have affected certain personal information. We have no indication that any information has been or will be misused. We want to make you aware of the incident and the measures taken in response, and to provide details on steps you can take – should you deem it appropriate – to help protect your information. The protection, privacy, and proper use of personal information is important to us, and we are working to prevent this type of incident from occurring again.

What Happened?

On or about May 21, 2026, Mercadien notified the Bank that Mercadien had experienced a data security incident.

What Information Was Involved?

Mercadien’s investigation determined that personal information was contained within the location that was accessed by an unauthorized third-party. The elements of personal information that could have been compromised include and potentially were not limited to: name, date of birth, address, social security number or individual tax identification number, account number, or government ID # (driver’s license number, passport number, etc.). Please note that we have no evidence at this time that any personal information has been misused as a result of this incident.

What We Are Doing

We want to assure you that we have taken this incident seriously and are committed to continuing to evaluate measures to prevent a similar event from occurring in the future. Additionally, out of an abundance of caution, we are providing affected individuals with access to free credit monitoring through Experian IdentityWorks for 24 months.

What Individuals Can Do

At this time, we are not aware of anyone experiencing fraud as a result of this incident. As data incidents are increasingly common, we encourage you to always remain vigilant, monitor your accounts, and immediately report any suspicious activity or suspected misuse of your personal information. We encourage you to review the Additional Important Information located below, which includes further steps to safeguard your personal information, such as implementing a fraud alert or security freeze.

For More Information

If you have any questions about this incident, please call (844) 959-7109 Monday – Friday between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Central Time, excluding major U.S. holidays.

Additional Important Information

You may wish to take additional steps to protect your identity.

For residents of all states:

Fraud Alerts: You can place fraud alerts with the three credit bureaus by phone and online with Equifax (https://assets.equifax.com/assets/personal/Fraud_Alert_Request_Form.pdf); TransUnion (<https://www.transunion.com/fraud-alerts>); or Experian (<https://www.experian.com/fraud/center.html>). A fraud alert tells creditors to follow certain procedures, including contacting you, before they open any new accounts or change your existing accounts. For that reason, placing a fraud alert can protect you, but also may delay you when you seek to obtain credit. As of September 21, 2018, initial fraud alerts last for one year. Victims of identity theft can also get an extended fraud alert for seven years. The phone numbers for all three credit bureaus are at the bottom of this page.

Monitoring: You should always remain vigilant and monitor your accounts for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing credit card account statements and monitoring your credit report for suspicious or unusual activity. You can report suspicious activity to financial institutions or law enforcement.

Fraud Alert: You can place fraud alerts with the three major credit bureaus by phone and online as set forth below with Equifax, TransUnion, or Experian. A fraud alert tells creditors to follow certain procedures, including contacting you, before they open any new accounts or change your existing accounts. For that reason, placing a fraud alert can protect you, but also may delay you when you seek to obtain credit. Initial fraud alerts last for one year. Victims of identity theft can get an extended fraud alert for seven years.

Credit Report: Consumers are also entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three credit reporting bureaus. To order your free credit report: visit www.annualcreditreport.com; call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228; or mail a completed Annual Credit Report Request Form (available at www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/0155-free-credit-reports) to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA, 30348-5281.

Security Freeze: You have the right to place a security freeze on your credit report. A security freeze is intended to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. To place a security freeze on your credit report, you need to make a request to each consumer reporting agency. You may make that request by certified mail, overnight mail, regular stamped mail, or by following the instructions found at the websites listed below. The following information may need to be included when requesting a security freeze: (1) full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; (2) Social Security number; (3) date of birth; (4) current and addresses for the past five years; (5) proof of address; (6) Social Security Card, pay stub, or W2; or (7) government-issued identification card. It is essential that each copy be legible, display your name and current mailing address, and the date of issue. It is free to place, lift, or remove a security freeze. You may also place a security freeze for children under the age of 16.

You may obtain a free security freeze by contacting any one or more of the following national consumer reporting agencies:

Implementing an Identity Protection PIN (IP PIN) with the IRS: To help protect against a fraudulent tax return being filed under your name, we recommend Implementing an Identity Protection PIN (IP PIN) with the IRS. An IP PIN is a six-digit number that prevents someone else from filing a tax return using your Social Security number or Individual Taxpayer Identification Number. The IP PIN is known only to you and the IRS. It helps the IRS verify your identity when you file your electronic or paper tax return. Even though you may not have a filing requirement, an IP PIN still protects your account.

If you don't already have an IP PIN, you may get an IP PIN as a proactive step to protect yourself from tax-related identity theft. The fastest way to receive an IP PIN is by using the online Get an IP PIN tool found at: www.irs.gov/identity-theft-fraud-scams/get-an-identity-protection-pin. If you wish to get an IP PIN and you don't already have an account on IRS.gov, you must register and validate your identity. Spouses and dependents are eligible for an IP PIN if they can pass the identity verification process. Some items to consider when obtaining an IP PIN with the IRS: (1) an IP PIN is valid for one calendar year; (2) a new IP PIN is generated each year for your account; (3) logging back into the Get an IP PIN tool, will display your current IP PIN; and (4) an IP PIN must be used when filing any federal tax returns during the year including prior year returns.
