Orrstown Bank announces new hires for Cash Management and Operations

Mike Jaeger joined Orrstown Bank as vice president and director of cash management sales. He previously held the same role at Metro Bank after starting there in 2005 as a management development associate and quickly rising through the ranks. He also worked as a customer service representative for Waypoint Bank.

Jaeger holds a bachelor's degree in Business Administration from Millersville University.

Bobbi Austin joined Orrstown Bank as a cash management officer overseeing the Lancaster region. She previously held the same position at Metro Bank and also served as a treasury management senior sales associate for PNC Bank.

Austin is currently pursuing a business administration degree from Elizabethtown College.

She serves on the board of directors for the Hands-on House Children's Museum of Lancaster and she volunteers as a coach for Girls on the Run of Lancaster.

Jay Dubina joined Orrstown Bank as vice president, digital and fraud operations manager. He was previously the electronic fraud manager for Metro Bank where he had been involved with fraud detection and prevention since 2006. Dubina also worked as a customer service representative for Metro Bank's Palmyra location and as a computer technician for Lebanon Valley College.

Dubina earned a bachelor's degree in mathematics from Lebanon Valley College.

He is a Certified Financial Crime Investigator, or CFCI, and is associated with the International Association of Financial Crime Investigators.

Dubina is a trainer and speaker on topics related to debit card fraud and has been asked to share his expertise at several international events.
